December 2013

Welcome to Southern Chile Properties

Dear Friends,

Today we are traveling on the Chilean coast on the way to meet with some wonderful clients who have become fine friends.

While en route we discovered that our segment of House Hunters International Chile has made it into the queue for their December line-up.

Originally our show aired in September. So, for those of you that missed it, please tune in.

Description:

After living and working in urban Shanghai, China for nearly two decades, Michelle has decided she's ready to get back to nature. On a whim she packs her bags to move halfway around the world to Panguipulli, Chile where she can start her own company and also learn how to farm. With help from her old friend, real estate agent Jeanette, Michelle searches for the perfect home. Will Michelle find a space that meets all of her needs or will she have to start entirely from scratch? Find out when House Hunters International goes to Panguipulli, Chile.

About the Author

Jeanette is a real estate broker and owner of Southern Chile Properties in partnership with her husband Martin Schnall. Jeanette has a degree in Asian Studies from the University of Massachusetts Amherst and speaks Mandarin Chinese. She loved her time in Asia, having studied as an exchange student in Taichung, Taiwan; as well as having worked setting up a greenfields manufacturing plant in Mainland China. After spending over ten event filled years as an International Project Coordinator and working in more than six foreign countries she left Tambrands (a division of Proctor and Gamble) to pursue other opportunities.

Presently Jeanette and her husband own 40 acres of land with a beautiful view in the Lakes Region of Patagonia, and live there as permanent residents. When not working on real estate they spend their time reading economics, following world events or planning work on their dream house in beautiful Southern Chile.
